Fall 2024

GETTING STARTED

We are off to a slower-than-usual start this semester due to substantial changes in work-study budgets and hiring processes. We will continue to work to employ a staff of peer tutors and related services by targetting support for:

- Broad based disciplinary coverage, particularly courses in the general education curriculum (peer tutors)
- Writing assignments (writing tutors)
- High-risk courses (SI Leaders)
- Basic research (Peer Research Consultants)

Supported areas (see pages 3-5) will continue to update in CU Succeed as remaining hires are confirmed in the upcoming days and weeks.

FACUTLY SUPPORT

Our success remains possible due to strong faculty support through student referrals and tutor recommendtions. We welcome conversations about ideas you may have for present and future support.

STUDENT ACCESS

Students can access each of our services as follows:

- Content tutors - appointment availability by tutor linked directly to student "Courses" in CU Succeed
- SI Leader Sessions - Session information communicated with classlists directly through email
- Writing tutors & PRCs - CU Succeed "service" searches for "writing support" & "PRC" respectively

Instructions for scheduling appointments through CU Succeed are on the last page of this document.

Refer to pages 3-5 for a list of course coverage for the Fall 2024 semester.

Anyone experiencing access issues can contact Chris (email below) and he will schedule appointments directly.

CHANGES & UPDATES

- Our website looks different than it has in the past:
<https://www.commonwealthu.edu/offices-directory/university-learning-center>
- SI sessions are no longer scheduled in CU Succeed - we are offering them as walk-in only.
- Tutoring appointments now need to be scheduled in advance.
