President Bashar Hanna's Semester Welcome

Dear Commonwealth University Family,

The Fall 2022 semester is here! What an exciting and inspiring time on our campuses. Through my years in education I have always loved the first days of a new school year—they are brimming with possibility. This year marks a historic milestone in the history of our universities. On July 1, Bloomsburg, Lock Haven, and Mansfield came together, officially, as Commonwealth University. Thank you for your patience, diligence, and contributions to the work we have engaged in together over the past two years.

We are embarking on a new journey together and there will certainly be bumps along the way. I remain confident in you, my colleagues of Commonwealth University. You give our campuses their heart. So long as we laser focus on our mission—the success of our students—we will not fail.

I wish you much success in the coming semester as you engage with and support our students toward the achievement of their educational goals.
